About

The Leadership Practices Inventory (LPI®) is a research-backed 360 tool that reveals blind spots leaders cannot see themselves and benchmarks their behavior against global standards. It gives coaches a credible, structured foundation to move beyond generic feedback conversations and drive real, measurable leadership change with greater confidence and impact.

Who Should Attend?

- HR, L&D, and Talent Management professionals
- Internal and Professional Executive Coaches
- Organizational Development specialists
- People Managers who coach their teams
- Consultants in leadership development

Webinar Highlights

-  What the LPI® is and why it is highly effective for leadership development
-  Why coaching with a structured 360 tool is often more powerful than training alone
-  The unique value of 360 feedback as a “gift” in leadership growth
-  Target participants and benefits for both new and experienced coaches
-  Certification process and post-program support
-  Overview of the 2-Day LPI Trained Coach Certification Program (30 October & 21 November 2026)
